Subject: NDA

Dear Dennis,

Thank you for your interest in Harris Corporation's Wireless Products Group's (WPG) offerings. We have been working with you and your team on their inquiries about and purchase of our products and need to establish your understanding and cooperation.

As with many of the tools and techniques used by your officers and investigators, stealth, quiet approach, and skilled execution are the glue that transforms weapons and technology investments into capabilities and results. However, unlike many other tools used, WPG's Products' are restricted to sworn law enforcement personnel only, and then only to those with a "need to know". Stated simply, only officers and investigators with arrest authority are permitted to use them or have knowledge of how they work. These products must not be discussed with or demonstrated to any other persons (e.g. administrative assistants, procurement staff, council members and other elected officials, grant representatives, press or media). Additionally, the WPG products should not be discussed or demonstrated in any public setting where the general public may overhear or see, such as an open courtroom or a 7-Eleven parking lot.

The effectiveness of our solutions are best ensured by maintaining strict adherence to the confidentiality imposed by Title 18 US Code 2512 (see attached). As with other tools and activities surrounding CALEA, Title 18 and Title 3 US Code, policy and treatment of WPG's products' capabilities need to be similar to other Intelligence-oriented aspects of your operations, and in accordance with the laws in your State and jurisdiction. In short, the capabilities of these tools should not be discussed or demonstrated outside of appropriate closed-door settings, and should only be conducted with sworn personnel who have a need to know.

The below list is just a snapshot of disclosure scenarios we are aware of.

Common Mistakes Leading To Prohibited Disclosures

- Agency users disclosing in a public forum, how WPG products are used.
- Agency users sharing anecdotes or referring to product capabilities when speaking with or within proximity of support personnel.
- Agency users inviting agency personnel, who do not meet the need to know criteria, to product demonstrations or mission debriefs.
- Investigators supported by agency users, disclosing WPG's products' capabilities via documents, testimony, and debriefs.

- Agency representatives disclosing WPG's products' use/role in successful missions to press and media, or in public settings where the press or media is expected or likely to be in attendance.
- Agencies posting procurement documents for WPG products on publicly-available websites.
- Agency users exposing WPG products, their vehicles, etc. to incarcerated persons (e.g. jails, prisons, juvenile facilities, station Sally Port parking area).
- Agency users loading equipment in and out of vehicles in public view.
- Agencies failing to debrief outgoing users regarding their obligation to keep their knowledge confidential.

The collective goal of our users should be to ensure that these types of disclosures do not occur. User discretion is the key to the success of their agency's future missions using WPG Products.

The attached Nondisclosure Agreement (NDA) has been developed to help ensure that the agencies that use WPG Products, continue to fully benefit from the many advantages the products bring to law enforcement missions. It provides the structure and agreement to the above described discipline. Compliance with it will assist in preventing the above and other common mistakes that may jeopardize or compromise your agency's missions and techniques enabled by your WPG Products.

Moreover, the NDA provides a common and consistent way for Harris Corporation to communicate this information to you and your personnel that best assures understanding for all who need to know and commit to this discipline.

We at Harris Corporation are excited to have your agency among the many federal, state and local professional organizations we serve daily. We are committed to your success. Should you have any questions about the NDA, this letter, or our products and services, please contact your WPG Account Manager.

Please review and sign the NDA, and return it to our WPG Contracts Representative or Account Manager. We will return to you a copy of the fully executed and signed agreement within a few business days.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve you. If you require any additional information, please don't hesitate to call me at (571) 246-7450.

Respectfully,

Michael E. Dillon
